Strikepoint thanks you for your support during Minnesota's Give to the Max Day. Each year the amount donated grows a bit and allows Strikepoint to accomplish some things beyond their budget, such as replacing foam and covers on the Bell Room rehearsal tables. Stop by and see them!

On the Journey With You

So much has happened over the past couple of years, many hard things—COVID, impacts of racial injustice, inflation, deaths of loved ones... I'm sure you can add to this list. What a gift it is to now be able to be in person with each other to share more and more community together. What a joy it is to be able to do more and more ministry helping those in need. Later in the newsletter you will read all about our Advent/Christmas Project and the many ways you can choose to participate.

We are now in the season of Advent—the time of waiting and preparing. We spend this time preparing our minds and hearts for the coming of Christ into our world. This season gives us special opportunity to remember how Jesus lived his life including all people... bringing justice where there was injustice... taking care of all God's creation... being in right relationship with others and with God... seeing with delight and appreciation all that God has done and is doing. And we, too, seek to live in that way, so that like Jesus we may bring light to places of darkness... to be light in the world. I look forward to journeying with you through Advent and celebrating Christmas together.

Soon we will finish the year 2022. As we do, I leave you with a poem by John O'Donohue in his book To Bless the Space Between Us: A Book of Blessings. It is called "At the End of the Year."

At the End of the Year

As this year draws to its end, We give thanks for the gifts it brought And how they became inlaid within Where neither time nor tide can touch them.

The days when the veil lifted And the soul could see delight; When a quiver caressed the heart In the sheer exuberance of being here.

Surprises that came awake In forgotten corners of old fields Where expectation seemed to have quenched.

The slow, brooding times When all was awkward And the wave in the mind Pierced every sore with salt.

The darkened days that stopped The confidence of the dawn.

Days when beloved faces shone brighter

With light from beyond themselves; And from the granite of some secret sorrow

A stream of buried tears loosened.

We bless this year for all we learned, For all we loved and lost And for the quiet way it brought us Nearer to our invisible destination.

Let us pray:

God, thank you for this year... for all we have learned... for all we have loved and lost. Thank you for all the ways this year past has brought us closer to one another and you. Help us to quietly enter the new year, our eyes fixed on you and your ways, so that together we might better see each other and both find and offer hope and healing anew. Amen.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. You are loved!

Blessing Bags

Hey church, we need YOU to donate to our blessing bags. We have two large black bins (decorated nicely by our children) set out in the Narthex to collect all the items you would like to donate. The items will be placed into bags and then given back to the congregation to pass out to people who are homeless in our community. We will take all kinds of donations—anything that would fit inside a brown lunch bag that you think people would like. Some examples are socks, small shampoo bottles, gift cards, a variety of snacks, neck gaiters,

From Our Faith Community Nurse

Greetings, everyone! Now is the season to be of good cheer, for I bring you tidings of comfort and jov.

But for many, the season does not bring comfort or joy. Many have suffered losses, try to overdo, become frustrated, endure family squabbles, are homeless, care for sick friends or family members, or need to quarantine again. As we know, unpleasant things are always with us. So how do we help mitigate unpleasantness?

During this time of year when the days get shorter and darkness engulfs us, many will become sad and depressed. Joan Borysenko, a therapist, scientist, and mystic (I had the pleasure of attending one of her workshops) has said that prayers, meditations, and affirmations are needed each day of the year to nurture your Spirit. How else can you help nurture your Spirit? Let in light; gaze at the sun reflecting off the snow; go out on a crisp, cold dark night and gaze at the stars, the Milky Way, and the moon; reflect and think. Walk outside. Become mindful.

Learning to be mindful can be a very important technique to help with stress, anxiety, and depression. Your ups and downs will improve and lead you to a better mood.

Being mindful can also help with sleep, improve relationships and concentration, and increase your energy. It can also improve your immune function, lower your blood pressure and heart rate, and increase your ability to deal with illness. It has been found to increase self-compassion and self-control.

The key to being mindful is to be present, in the moment focusing on thoughts, emotions, and physical sensations. One becomes more aware, rather than reacting to a situation or choices. There are many books available to help you get started being mindful. Guided imagery is also used as a form of mindfulness, and learning breathing techniques helps to dispel anxiety. Belly breathing (also known as diaphragmatic breathing or box breathing) is a technique that you can use, and YouTube has demonstrations.

As we approach Christmas and the New Year, many of us will attend gatherings where food is plentiful. Just be mindful of what your body can tell you to protect yourself from overeating. To do this, engage all your sensesis such as food colors, smells, and tastes; take one plateful only; savor small bites and thoroughly chew; put down your fork between bites; and when you are 80% full, quit.

Changing habits and forming new ones can be daunting. Prayer can help guide us and assist us in making and implementing our choices for better health, but we must take actions to achieve it. Identifying a stressor in your life and deciding to take action to remedy it can lead to better health. Faith and healthy lifestyles combine to help us toward wholeness.

May you find peace and comfort during this Christmas season.

Blessings, ~Linda Wiig

Bishop Lanette Plambeck Assigned to Dakotas-Minnesota Area

By Rev. Cindy Gregorson

Bishop Lanette Plambeck has been assigned as the resident bishop for the Dakotas-Minnesota Area effective January 1, 2023. She was elected to the episcopacy at the 2022 North Central Jurisdictional Conference. Before her election, she served as the assistant to the bishop and director of clergy and leadership Excellence in the Iowa Annual Conference.

Bishop Plambeck, in her pastoral service, has served as a local church pastor in four different pastoral settings, including urban, county seat, town, and country. She has experience as a college chaplain and a licensed counselor in family systems and chemical and substance abuse. She is a veteran of the U.S. Army and was deployed to Desert Storm/Desert Shield.

She says the measure of her leadership is three questions she asks herself at the end of each day: Did I glorify God? Did I point people to Christ? Did I love? She describes herself as "unapologetically Wesleyan and so in love with Jesus and his ministry marked by compassion, grace, and justice." A gift she brings as a leader is "to inspire others to live lives of significance as we work for 'kingdom on earth as it is in heaven' through active discipleship as we respond to the suffering in the world. I am committed to developing leaders (clergy and laity) to grow into the very best versions of themselves so that they can be at their very best for God."

Bishop Plambeck has one adult daughter who lives in the Washington, D.C. area.

The North Central Jurisdiction's Episcopacy Committee is responsible for assigning bishops—a process that begins immediately after all bishops are elected. The committee includes two people from each annual conference. The announcement of the assignments of all nine bishops was made on Saturday morning at the end of the consecration service for the three new bishops. Their assignments take effect on January 1, 2023. Bishops are normally assigned for a four-year term, but this will be a shortened assignment, as the Jurisdictional Conference is scheduled to meet in its regular sequence following the General Conference in July 2024 to elect and assign bishops for the 2024-2028 quadrennium.

Here is the complete list of assignments for January 1, 2023 to August. 31, 2024:

• Dakotas-Minnesota Conferences: Bishop Lanette Plambeck

- East Ohio Conference: Bishop Tracy Smith Malone
- Illinois-Great Rivers Conference: Bishop Frank Beard

Warming Center Update

The CHUM
Warming
Center opened its doors on November
1 as an emergency

overnight drop-in for people experiencing unsheltered homelessness. Staff report that there is more need this year than at any time in the past: already in November an average of 60 people check in every night.

Donations are needed and can be brought to CHUM, 102 W. 2nd Street, during normal business hours. Current Warming Center needs:

- Socks (all adult sizes, cotton and thermal)
- Gently-used winter boots (all adult sizes)
- Gloves
- Coffee
- Coffee creamer
- Healthy pre-packaged snacks (granola bars, nuts, dried fruit)

Volunteers are key to the success of the Warming Center. There are two-hour shifts available in evenings or mornings to assist with food and gear distribution, cleaning, and simply being a welcoming presence for our guests.

Volunteer requirements:

- * Must be 18 years or older
- * Must attend a volunteer orientation
- * Must be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and able to wear a mask if mandated by the CDC

Because our work is deeply rooted in human relationships, a weekly commitment is preferred. Click the link below to register and you will receive updates about orientation opportunities.

From the Welcome Desk

by Mary Giese, director of welcoming and hospitality

Where do we find our joy?

I have been watching and listening for joy, and I welcome your additions to this list.

- The greatest joy is Christmas when we welcome the baby Jesus. That is true "JOY to the world."
- A new church directory! That will be a real joy for many when it arrives.
- An email with the subject line "A Voice From the Past" and a message from friends that have been out of touch for a few years. Truly a welcome joy!
- An early morning picture from the "littles" in your life on their way to school brings joy.
- Have you ever felt joy when you find something you put away and forgot about?
- Welcoming someone at church who is back in person for the first time since COVID. Joy!
- The joy of seeing family after three years apart is wonderful joy.
- Decorating the Christmas tree and remembering a loved one or friend who gave us a special ornament can bring a quick tug of "missing you," replaced with the joy of memories.
- Hearing about friends' first grandchild. Incredible joy!
- Pileated woodpeckers are back! Might the cardinals come too? Joy on dreary winter days!
- A loved one with dementia who can't speak but giggles aloud at a special picture from the past. Intense joy!
- When kids, now grown, come home for Christmas and bring their kiddos to church... it brings delightful jov.
- And to finish this up, Kent had an office sign that said:

"Everybody brings joy to this office Some when they come, and some when they go!"

Wherever and whenever joy finds you, welcome it and carry it with you to share with others. Bring it to church with you and invite others to come and share the IOY!

Remember we are the church with a welcome for evervbody, always!

EarthKeeper

by Naomi Yaeger, a commissioned United Methodist EarthKeeper.

Got Green? There's an App for That

B getgreen Earlier this month, my daughter, her boyfriend, and about 30 others met at Wild State Cider in Lincoln Park to learn about a new app called GetGreen. This app-launch party was coordinated by Ecolibrium3, a nonprofit organization operating in Lincoln Park. Its mission is to inspire change toward an equitable and sustainable future.

We each received a wooden token to exchange for a drink. I acted like a traditional teetotaling Methodist and ordered a mango kombucha, and so did Rebecca. Matt ordered a hard cider.

While enjoying the company of other environmentally-minded citizens and sipping drinks, we learned about the app. It is a pilot project developed by Emerald Technology Group, PBC, and touted as a sustainability solution in your pocket. It gamifies behavior modification incentives while it tracks progress towards monthly and other goals. In addition, using it teaches you about new sustainable products and actions you can take.

"I'm really tickled," said Mayor Emily Larson during the event. She explained that this app would allow Duluthians to measure the citizens' progress and give data to challenge the Public Utility Commission to go further.

According to Ecolibrum3, "GetGreen is a mobile app that helps individuals make an impact on the climate crisis." The app will aid individual and collective action by providing sustainable options and alternatives to everyday tasks to create a daily habit of climate stewardship.

It works like a digital journal. Take an action and record it on the app—you earn at least one green leaf, sometimes several. And your smartphone lightly chimes with animated images of leaves dropping.

Currently, on the GetGreen app, I have 19 points, equivalent to the emissions of 190 loads of laundry.

To learn more, visit GetGreen.eco and Duluth Citizens' Action Plan at ecolibrium3.org/duluthclimateaction.

First UMC Advent/Christmas Mission

Five Joyful Ways to Address Homelessness

Blessing Bags

FUMC Youth are distributing Blessing Bags filled with items a person experiencing homelessness can use: Snacks and socks, candy and candles, wash cloths and water bottles, gloves and goodies... whatever you might want if you were standing outside. Pick up some bags in the Narthex to keep in your car and then offer with a smile when you see someone in need.

Advent Gift Drive

Bring items for CHUM Street Outreach to church to celebrate the season. Do a little holiday shopping for people who live outdoors. Collection boxes will be in the Sanctuary from November 27 through December 18. Items needed: Reusable water bottles, bandages/Band-Aids, toilet paper, toothpaste, shampoo and conditioner, deodorant, body wash, warm winter socks, waterproof hats and gloves, hand warmers, blankets, bath towels and wash cloths, household cleaners, dish soap, sewing kits, pillar candles, gas cards, wallets, solar lights, tents, sleeping bags, and tarps.

Christmas Offering

Stepping On Up and Mary Johnston Hospital in the Philippines will share in the Advent/Christmas financial giving. One half will go to church operations, the other half will be divided, 2/3 to Stepping On Up, and 1/3 to the Mary Johnston Hospital solar panel project. Please give from your heart to these vital mission projects. Please make checks payable to FUMC and note "Advent/Christmas" on your offering envelope or memo line.

FUMC Steps Up Fund

We want to be ready when Stepping On Up Duluth calls on congregations for financial support. This fund has been established so that FUMC can respond quickly when a specific need arises. A $1,000 matching gift has been given. A portion of the Christmas offering will go to this fund but additional donations can be made anytime. Please make checks payable to FUMC and note "Stepping On Up" on your offering envelope or memo line.

CHUM Street Outreach

Interesting fact: Sixty dollars covers the cost of street outreach services for one month for one person living outdoors.
