JOY TO THE WORLD

Not long ago, “Joy to the World,” a beloved Christmas classic, turned 300 years old. It has been blessing generations of people. Composer Isaac Watts’ interpretation of Psalm 98 invites us to sing a “new song” and it is a powerful cosmic performance of all creation being renewed and freed. This year, in worship during Advent/Christmas we will be reflecting on this powerful and precious Christmas carol.

Rather than “joy” being simply another word for “happiness,” we will discover that the depths of joy can be found especially in the midst of suffering, the work of justice, and the presence of compassion—all part of the coming of Jesus to this world and a message the world still so desperately needs.

Isaac Watts was born in 1674, in South Hampton, England. He was raised in a deeply religious family. Watts’ earliest memories were of his father’s convictions about religious liberty. His father was jailed twice rather than conform to the Church of England (he wanted to worship in a church unaffiliated with the government).

Isaac Watts became a pastor and eventually served a large, independent church in London. He developed a wide reputation for his preaching. He was consumed with communicating his Christian convictions in heartfelt worship and song.

The opening line of Watts’ “Joy to the World” is often sung incorrectly as “Joy to the World, the Lord has come.” That is not what Watts wrote. He wrote, “Joy to the World, the Lord is come.” Watts was not specifically writing about the past—the birth of Jesus. Instead he was writing about the future return of Jesus. The Scripture passage he based the song on speaks of the second coming of Christ. This is not simply about the newborn King—it is about the coming King.

Watts wrote “Joy to the World.” A century later, a Boston music teacher, Lowell Mason, discovered the poem and set it to music. Because it was released at Christmastime, it quickly became a holiday favorite. Over time, it has become the most published Christmas Carol in America. Although not originally intended as a Christmas song, it is a hymn filled with great hope, joy, and anticipation. And, in that sense, it is a perfect Christmas hymn!

Join us as we explore this hymn in the coming days. I end with a translation of Psalm 98 by Nan C. Merrill:

“Make a joyful noise to the Beloved all the earth; break forth into grateful song and sing praises! Yes, sing songs of praise extolling Love’s way; lift up your hearts with gratitude and joy!”

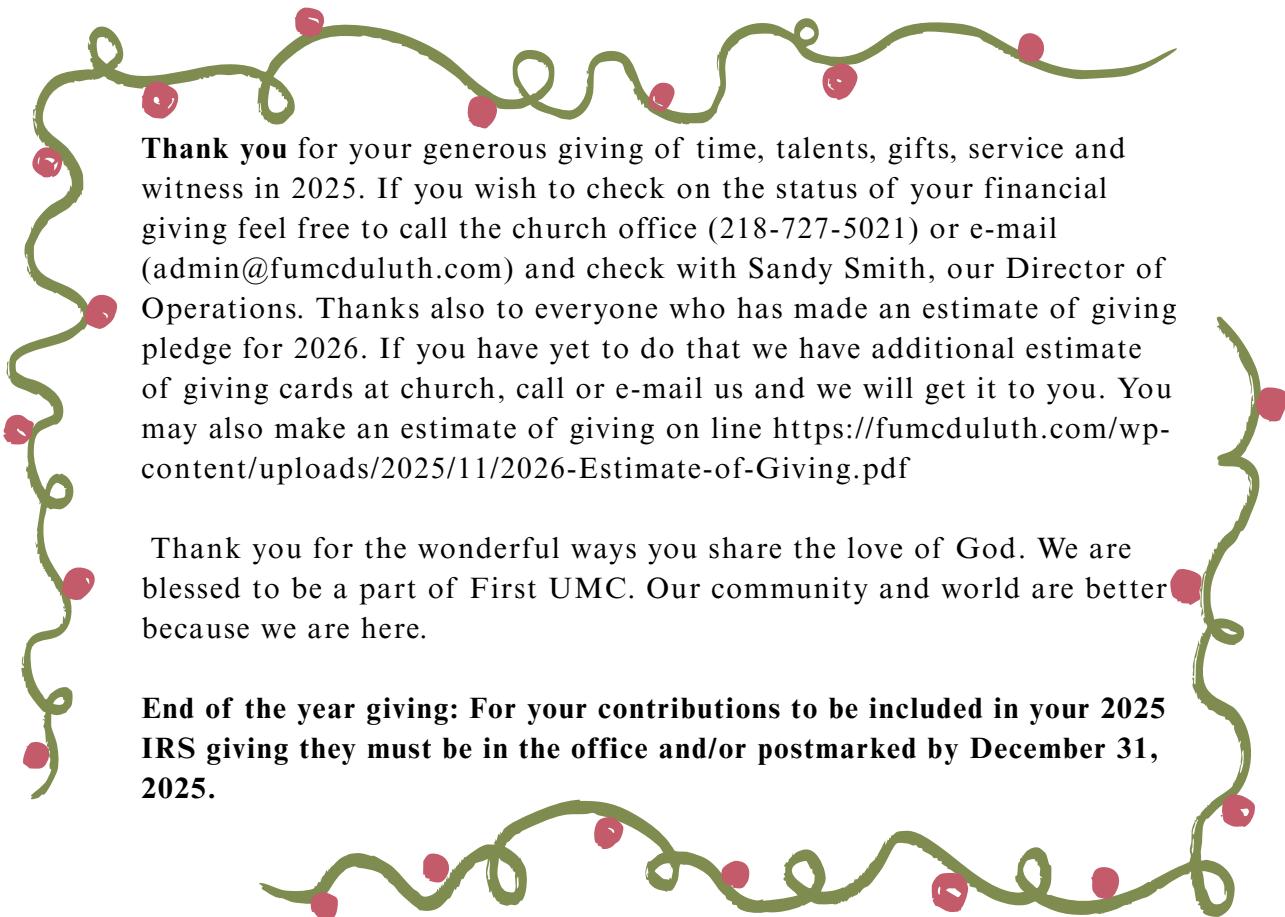

Merry Christmas & Happy New Year. You are loved!

Pastor Jeanine

Advent/Christmas

Mission Project

This year you will have several ways to participate in our mission project

Financial Donations

Shared between the mission and ministry of our congregation,
food ministry for Union Gospel Mission and CHUM

Give your time

- Hope for the Holidays – Join us on November 23rd to write holiday cards for refugees and other immigrants immediately following the service
- Volunteer to help with serving lunch at Union Gospel Mission on December 8th from 11:30am - 1:30pm
- Volunteer to help with Ruby's Pantry on December 18th from 4pm-6:30pm

Donate items

- Toy Give away for Union Gospel Mission (see giving tree at church and/or pick up a toy for any age child or youth – bring unwrapped toy to church and place it in the front of the sanctuary by Dec. 8.)
- Food and items for the Food Shelf. Specifically, Chum often need items like: Canned soup (non cream), Canned fruit, Canned vegetables, Canned stew and Canned pasta, Canned fish, Canned beans, Pasta, Rice, Cereal, Peanut Butter, Mac-n-Cheese, Toilet Paper (cited as a chronic need, rarely available in quantities needed), Cat food (apparently, dog food is more available), stuffing, gravy mix, juices, coffee ... And... of course... CASH.

We Give Thanks

Sunday, November 16th was Consecration Sunday. Following worship, we gathered for a simple meal of soup and bread. What a great way to come together and celebrate our commitment to God, church, community, and our earth.

Special thanks go to Scott Hedlund for making delectable bread. The soups would not have gotten to the table without the help of: Anita and Tim Zager, Linda Wiig, Marla Preston Yoho, Pastor Jeanine, Karen Alseth, and Tom Brown. You all know just how much Cindy Hedlund likes to decorate. She brightened the Social Hall by dressing the tables to welcome all.

Larry Ehresman and Pamela Brown extend our warmest thanks to all who made it possible to come to the table.

Thank you to all the volunteers who donated their time and talents to the Coppertop Bazaar bakery. And thank you to all our wonderful customers who purchased the yummy treats. The bakery was completely sold out before the end of the afternoon. It was a great success!

Thanks, Linda Harper and Barb Kim

Our church is a happening place. Saturday, November 15th, we hosted the Fiber Art Fair, the church library had its annual book sale, and we sold soup (using the delectable leftovers from the annual Roast Beef Dinner), and Larry's famous cinnamon rolls.

These missions could not happen without you. Special thanks to Rhonda Montavon and Marla Preston Yoho. With their help and your prayers, we raised over $800.00 that will be used for updates to the Atrium and Narthex. As Helen Keller said: "Alone we can do so little, together we can do so much."

· Dear First United Methodist Church, thank you for your recent donation to the Union Gospel Mission (UGM). Here at UGM, we are driven by a belief that everyone deserves food, shelter, and hope. And, because of the generosity of our donors, the Mission has been on that mission for over 100 years. Your thoughtful gift ensures we can continue serving our guests in a way that preserves pride and inspires belief in a better tomorrow. Because shelter fills a need, and food fills stomachs – but hope fills the soul. Thank you for making a difference in the Northland!

Thank you for First UMC's regular donation to the CHUM general fund and CHUM's emergency shelter and the Chaplaincy program. Your monthly gifts allow us to continue to provide food, shelter, advocacy, and a caring community for some of Duluth's most vulnerable residents.

· Thank you for the generous gift to the Damiano Center! Your support is crucial to serving the most vulnerable in our community. Each day, hundreds of people visit Damiano seeking to have their most basic needs met. Thank you for partnering with us to strengthen our community by providing for the most vulnerable among us.

Lighting the Church

2X2 group is lighting the church the week of December 7 in memory of Patrick Alexander who's birthday is December 10. The remainder will go to the Children's Ministry

FUMC Board of Trustees is lighting the church in memory of Bob Krumwiede the weeks of December 14, 21, 28, January 4 & 11. The remainder of the gift will go to the Choir.

Communion Sundays = Bring Food for the Food Shelf
Every communion Sunday (typically the first Sunday of the month) we are asking you to bring a donation of food (or monetary donation) for the CHUM food shelf. That way when we come to the communion table to be fed spiritually we are also feeding others who are physically hungry. The foodshelf cart will be available for donations. If you make a financial donation please note "foodshelf" in the check memo or envelope and make checks out to FUMC. Thank you for loving our neighbors in need.

From The Welcome Desk

Advent: Welcoming Christ, Welcoming One Another

As we enter the holy season of Advent, we are invited once again to prepare our hearts for the coming of Christ. These weeks leading up to Christmas are not just about counting down days, but about making room—for Christ, for one another, and for God's transforming grace.

In the United Methodist tradition, we speak often of open hearts, open minds, and open doors. Advent is the perfect time to live out that calling. As we light the candles of hope, peace, joy, and love, we are reminded that Christ's light shines brightest when we share it together as a community of faith.

This season, may we be intentional about gathering as families and as a church family:

- In our homes, around dinner tables, and Christmas trees, sharing prayers and stories of God's faithfulness.
- In our church, through worship, song, and service, renewing our commitment to grow in grace and love.
- In our community, reaching out with warmth to neighbors, newcomers, and those who might need a reminder that they are not alone.

Advent invites us to pause amid the busyness and remember that Christ comes to meet us—in worship, in fellowship, and in every act of kindness. When we welcome one another as Christ has welcomed us, we bear witness to God's love made flesh among us.

Lets make this Advent a season of presence, not just presents—a time to strengthen our connections with family, friends, and our church family. Together, let's fill our sanctuary and our homes with joy, prayer, and welcome, trusting that Emmanuel—God with us—will meet us here.

“Therefore welcome one another as Christ has welcomed you, for the glory of God.” – Romans 15:7

Greetings! As we continue through this Holiday Season, I thought that it would be a good idea to do a little Food Talk. Eating links us to all beings who now live and all beings who have ever lived. Eating reveals our dependence on other living things and on the divine goodness that gives life to all things. The Lakota Sioux and other tribes give thanks to the animals that they hunt and kill believing that the animal surrendered its life for human survival. John Lame Deer remembers his uncle saying, "There's more to food than just passing through your body. There are spirits in the food, watching over it." Food is spiritual nourishment, be it supernatural—Jewish manna, Christian eucharist, Greek ambrosia, Hindu soma—or merely the daily portion of meat and potatoes. From Gifts of the Spirit by Paul Kofman and Philip Zaleski. When we sit down to a meal do we give thanks? Do we really relish what we eat or do we rush through it mindlessly distracted by what may be going on around us. Through table blessings we can remember and give gratitude to the source of our food and gratitude to those who produce it and give thanks to creation.

When preparing foods, the goals are:

- Prevent contaminating food with pathogens spreading from people, pets, and pests.
- Separate raw and cooked foods to prevent contaminating the cooked foods.
- Cook foods for the appropriate length of time and at the appropriate temperature to kill pathogens.
- Store food at the proper temperature.
- Always wash your hands after handling raw meat to prevent cross contamination that can spread easily

If you are having chicken or turkey, remember to cook to 185 degrees. Food contamination happens when foods are corrupted with another substance. It can happen in the process of production, transportation, packaging, storage, sales, and cooking. Contamination can be physical, chemical, or biological. Unfortunately, the funding bill that reopened the government — introduced by Senate Republicans and signed into law by Trump on Nov. 12 — included provisions that delayed, weakened or prohibited FDA enforcement of ongoing and pending food safety regulations. The regulations affected included safety and hygiene standards for handling produce and enhanced recordkeeping for certain parts of the food chain supply. This new bill along with the cuts to inspection personnel will not help to maintain food safety. Thus, we must remain diligent in our food preparation.

So let us give thanks for our food, provide as we can for those who have little, and eat with gratitude.

Peace and Blessings this season of Advent. Linda

Sign Up for This Year's Extollers

Extollers 2024

It's time to recruit for Extollers, our Christmas Eve reunion bell choir! If you are currently involved in our handbell program, or have EVER been a member of one of our handbell ensembles, you are invited to be part of Extollers. This group usually draws around 30 ringers and uses at least three of our sets of bells. The Extoller rehearsal was always one of Bill Alexander's favorite parts of Christmas - a chance to see former ringers home for the holidays and have many "generations" of our bell program mingle. Our new bell director, Derek Bromme, is pleased to continue this very special tradition.

There will be a single rehearsal on Christmas Eve morning, from 9:30-11am, in the Sanctuary. The rehearsal ends with a group photo (see last year's group pictured here). The Extollers will then play for the 10pm candlelight service that evening. If you're interested in playing in this year's Extollers massed choir, contact Derek Bromme, 218-590-0087 or dbromme@css.edu. If there are specific bells or a spot you'd like to play, be sure to let him know and we'll do our best to accommodate that.

Ringing in the Holidays!

Our own Strikepoint, Duluth's premier handbell ensemble, will be playing lots of Christmas music this season. They are again honored to be featured guest performers with the Arrowhead Chorale on Friday, December 12 at 7:30pm and again on Saturday, December 13 at 3pm. Both concerts will be held at First Lutheran Church (1100 E. Superior St. in Duluth); come a little early, as Strikepoint will be playing a prelude beginning about 15 minutes before the concert. Tickets are available at <https://arrowheadchorale.com> or at the door, and are rumored to be selling fast. This year's concert is called Holiday Traditions and Jubilations: Hallelujah! According to Chorale conductor Matt Faerber, "I can't imagine a Christmas concert without Strikepoint!"

Strikepoint's own holiday concert, A Bell Noël: Ringing in the holidays!, is in our Sanctuary on Friday, December 19 at 7pm. Tickets are available only at the door and are $25 for adults, $10 for students and children. If ticket prices are prohibitive, please talk to Pastor Jeanine.

The First UMC Carol Donahue Music Scholarship is offered to students, 12 to 18 years old, for up to three years. After the first year they may continue with a recommendation from their instructor for a second or third year. Scholarship students need to have studied their instrument for three years before applying. This year, 2025-2026, we have three first year Music Scholarship Students. Each student receives a $300 scholarship for each year of lessons, music or other materials related to their studies.

Victor Ramos is a violinist from East High School. He plays violin in the DSSO Youth Symphony Orchestra where he serves as Concertmaster, participates in the Summer Quartet Project, as well as playing in his school orchestra. The Quartet Project allows students to practice and perform in small groups as well as a full orchestra for one intense week of study. The students are guided in their studies by "seasoned" string instructors. The week ends as they perform in concert for the public, and with the Lake Superior Chamber Orchestra for its final concert with its Director, Byron Klimek.

Anja Harju played the violin for six years on the violin her grandfather crafted. The viola has been her main instrument for the past four years, as her school orchestra needed another violist to balance out the orchestra. She has had many opportunities to play for the public in various settings including school auditoriums, Orchestra Hall in Minneapolis, Mitchell Auditorium, and for her family during holiday gatherings.

Yupeng Chen is currently the Associate Concertmaster of the DSSO Youth Symphony Orchestra and Co Concertmaster at East High School. Yupeng Chen radiates his enthusiasm for music. He has studied and played his violin since he was four years old. He says, "Music has become a definite part of his life with hopes to be a part of the DSSO no matter what profession he chooses."

We have two second-year students from FUMC; they are Delaney Neilsen, piano, and Nathaniel Bateman, piano and flute. We also have one second year student from Kenwood Lutheran Church, Sawyer Baldes, who is both a piano and a vocal student.

The music students mentioned above will have opportunities to perform for the congregation at various times of the year. This gives our congregation the opportunity to hear and see the youth supported by the Carol M. Donahue Music Student Scholarship Fund of FUMC. In the coming months the scholarship committee will be sponsoring a musical fundraising event that will be announced at a later date. If you know of a young student that has the ability to apply for this music scholarship of FUMC, contact Carol or one of the committee members listed below.

December Stories – “Surviving the Holidays”

Our first gatherings — both at Coppertop and online — have been filled with warmth, honesty, and wonderful stories. We learn from one another as we navigate the trial-and-error world of dementia care. The purpose of Table of Eight is simple: to offer family dementia caregivers a safe space to share stories and gain strength, ideas, and hope from the lived experiences of others.

Family members of all ages are welcome — whether caring for someone living at home or in assisted living or memory care. We especially welcome those who support a loved one from a distance. Please feel free to invite family and friends who live elsewhere to join our Second Friday Zoom Gathering each month at 10:00 AM CT.

At the heart of Table of Eight is encouragement, compassion, and the freedom to express our real feelings. Sharing our thoughts, experiences, frustrations, and fears can open the door to insight and self-healing — for ourselves and for one another.

For those who have walked through the passing of a loved one who lived with dementia, your presence and your stories remain deeply valued. Together we reflect on the meaningful question: “Who Am I Now, That I’m No Longer a Dementia Caregiver?” We are fellow travelers navigating two unknown worlds — ours and theirs. In the end, sharing our stories is the most meaningful gift we offer in this ministry: to ourselves, to one another, and to the memory of those we love.

When the Stars Fade, So Does Our Witness to God's Handiwork

Lately I've been waking up at 4 a.m. and taking the dog outside to do her duty. While I'm outside I am amazed, at all the stars in the dark sky. But in many places the world is glowing 24/7, and we risk losing more than the stars — we risk losing a little of our soul. As believers called to respect God's creation, we ought to pause and ponder how our lights — once symbols of safety and progress — are now drowning the night, silencing the heavens and unsettling the order of life.

When artificial lighting blankets the night sky, the beautiful tapestry of stars that once whispered "Creator of the heavens" fades from view. The International Dark-Sky Association estimates that much of humanity now lives beneath skies so bright that the Milky Way is invisible. For birds that migrate by starlight, for insects that forage by moonlight and for humans whose bodies rely on cycles of dark and light, this constant glare is a distortion of the rhythm God built. Wild creatures suffer. Nocturnal animals dependent on natural darkness find their cues confused. According to the National Wildlife Federation, from bats and cougars to butterflies and sea turtles, artificial light disrupts feeding, breeding, and migration. Even human health is touched: studies show that exposure to light at night interferes with circadian rhythms and may lead to sleep problems and broader health concerns. As Methodists, we recall John Wesley's exhortation to live simply so others may simply live. In the same spirit, we might dim our lights, shield our floods and preserve the dusk. We can delight in creation's nighttime beauty and honor our role as stewards of land, sea and sky. The night sky belongs not only to astronomers or poets, but to every part of creation — including us. In reclaiming just a little darkness, we honor the Maker and the creatures He entrusted to our care.

Naomi Yaeger is passionate about environmental sustainability and writes to educate. She is a commissioned Earthkeeper in the United Methodist Church.

AVAILABLE FOR PURCHASE

When reorganizing the Fireside Room cabinets, we discovered over 20 Imperial Glass luncheon plates, known as the crotchet pattern. This pattern was first introduced in the 1943 – 1944 Sears Roebuck Co. catalogue. These plates are in pristine condition, valued at anywhere between $10.00 and $25.00 each.

If you would like to own a piece of American history (and church history, too), the suggested donation is $10.00. The proceeds will go to improvements of the Atrium and the Narthex.
